Fill out all fields with CAPITALIZED text and add an icon representing your product.

💡 Hint: Flaticon.com has a wide selection of license free images.

💡 Hint: Download our Photoshop template to here, to apply proper icon padding.

Step 11 – Features

The Features section allows you to provide additional information that is not captured in your description. Features often include bullet points, lists and hyperlinks. You can also leave the Features section blank; it is not essential to have a Feature in order to publish your listing. If you’d like to skip the features leave the capitalized form text intact so the publishing team knows to remove it for you.

Title: What should you call your feature? Some sample titles include “Additional Information,” “Guidelines,” etc.

Number: There is no limit to how many features you can add
The Customers and Media section is left blank by most of our partners. You must have explicit permission from a customer to list them as a user of your product.

If you do choose to use this field, the logo of each customer you check will appear on the main page for your product.
Step 13 - Support

The Support section provides contact information for customers with questions about your product.

Required fields: support email address is a required field but if you prefer not to provide email support please leave the capitalized text intact so it can be removed during the final review process.
Step 14 - Resources

- In the Resources section you can upload documentation to support your partner listing. Examples include user guides, brochures and videos.

- Naming your PDF document: In the “Name field,” name your product exactly as you want it to appear in the Marketplace. For example, write “User Guide” rather than userguide.pdf
Step 15 – Pricing

- The Pricing section does not need to be filled out as it will not appear in your marketplace listing.

- Make sure all pricing is set to 0.
Step 16 – Publish

Now that you’ve entered your product information, you are ready to submit your listing to the Marketplace team for review.

Click Publish and then “Publish Product” to send your product to the Marketplace team for their review.

Once they have approved your product listing it will be viewable on the Marketplace.
